ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The cases that appear in this book are the hard work and dedication of a team we are so proud to be a part of. In particular, thank you to our case authors: you are supporting the pedagogy of public health and providing essential material to help the next generation of public health leaders grow. The final polished look of this book would not be possible without our copy editors and the careful eye of Courtney Hambides, Diana Lee, and Nellie Oliveira. As editors, it is our privilege to provide this book as a tool to further the learning, the thinking and the progress of helping the world's population recognize the goals of public health.

We would also like to express our gratitude to the following organizations (and the preceptors/supervisors) who supported the training of our students and the development of the cases in this Casebook: ETIO Public Health Consultants, HEALaboratory at Western, Health Equity Action Research Team (HEART) at Western, Middlesex-London Health Unit, Moyo Health Community Services, Princess Margaret Cancer Centre, Public Health Agency of Canada, and Sunnybrook Health Sciences Centre.
