FERGUS NEWS RECORD. THURSDAY JULY 16TH. 1874.

STORM DATE. TUESDAY JULY 14TH. 1874.

A fearful hurricane passed over WILTON between 3 and 4pm. Tuesday, causing great destruction of property in the village and neighborhood, In the thickly settled locality west of WILTON, in the 6TH. CONCESSION, for three miles but two or three barns are uninjured, some being unroofed and others wholly destroyed The homes occupied by messrs. AMREY, JACKSON, and PETERS were unroofed, the inmates repairing to cellars for protection from the wind and heavy rain falling at the time. As far as heard from, about 30 buildings have been unroofed and otherwise injured. The woods were injured to a fearful extent. In fact everything in its line of march had to yield to the force of the wind. Mr. DAVIS had a sugar bush of 150 trees; but 5 remain. Mr. LAPUM had two cows killed and a fine large barn smashed up. Mr. STOVER lost a horse, and Mr. SMITH a horse and cow, by falling trees. The tower of the new M.E. CHURCH at VIOLET was blown down, and the shed at the W.M. CHURCH partially unroofed. It is reported that the MORVEN CHURCH has received injury. Reports are still coming in from different quarters of damage to property, of buildings moved from their foundations, and of grain being levelled to the ground. WILTON and the beautiful valley in which it is situated has frequently, during the past two years, sustained injury from violent winds.

FROM THE SAME PAPER.

A very heavy hailstorm passed over a portion of the TOWNSHIP of WEST FLAMBORO' on Tuesday afternoon, the hail being of extraordainary dimensions. Mr. JOHN DIMMICK states that one of the pieces which fell was of an oval shape, 9 inches long, 3/½ inches across the flat part and 2/½ inches in diameter. He further asserts that the hail ranged in size from not smaller than a marble to the size of a goose egg.
