Library Publishing Services at The University of Western Ontario

- Scholarship@Western launched in Dec. 2008
Policies

• Scholarly Communication Working Group created in Nov. 2008 to formulate policies
• ETD policy created and managed by Graduate Studies
Online Journal Publishing Policy

- A general policy
- Scholarly journals created or edited by faculty members at Western
- No focus on particular subject areas
- Oral agreement between the library and the journal
Journal Policies

• A list of questions to help journal editors develop policies
• Discussion of editorial workflow and practices
• Suggestions for copyright policy
Editorial and Publishing Process

• Editors’ decisions, with input from the library
• Demo site for editors to become familiar with the publishing system (EdiKit) and to refine editorial practices
• Manual of the system viewed as the basic documentation
• No copyediting service from the library
Post-publishing Services

• ISSN and digital object identifiers
• Registration with Directory of Open Access Journals and Open J-Gate
• Journal present on WorldCat.org
• Assistance with marketing as appropriate
Indexing and Discoverability

- Editors to identify important indexes and databases in their disciplines
- Library to contact index and database vendors on behalf of the journal
- No licensing required for indexes (no full text involved)
- Licensing required for full-text databases
Archiving and Preservation

• Preference for archiving and preserving journals in Canada
• A member of OCUL (Ontario Council of University Libraries)
• OCUL’s Scholars Portal
Lessons Learned

• Memorandum of understanding over responsibilities and liabilities between the library and the journal
• Education about the scholarly communication landscape for journal editors
Challenges

• Staffing
• Digitization of back issues
• Financial sustainability
• Journal continuity
• Marketing and visibility
Opportunities

• Integration of the library into the dissemination of scholarly content (for academic and research units on campus)
• Support for learning and research by publishing student journals
• Collaboration with departmental presses on campus
Opportunities

• Positive response to open access publishing
• Positive response to retention of author rights
